S066764      People, Plaintiff and Respondent

v.

Russell Anzalone, Defendant and Appellant

Defendant should not have been adjudged an MDO, and his commitment was improper. As previously explained, however, the pending appeal must be abated by reason of defendant's death.

S029453      People, Respondent
                         v.
                         Rudolph Jose Roybal, Appellant

In the above-entitled matter the court filed its decision on November 12, 1998, because of the following extraordinary and compelling circumstances:

1. The size of the record on appeal (totaling approximately 17,700 pages).
2. The necessity to grant appellant, for good cause, 10 extensions of time within which to submit his briefs.
3. The necessity to grant respondent, for good cause, 2 extensions of time within which to submit their briefs.
4. The number and complexity of the issues raised on appeal and the extensiveness of the briefing of the parties.
6. The divergent viewpoints of the justices.
